

Classroom SEL pack, a week on listening to your body, ages 3 to 7

Tumble and the Honey Glow

A five-day plan with everything to print: word cards, a poster, a feelings chart, sequencing cards, activity cards, promise cards, an observation grid, exit tickets and family letters in five languages. The Home Activity Pack is included at the back.

Classroom licence: one teacher may print and copy this pack for their own class and students' families. Please don't share the file or post it online.

The week at a glance

About 20 to 30 minutes a day. Each day stands alone if you only have time for one.

Day	What you do	Print
Day 1 Read and learn the words	Read the story with the pause points. Teach the five words with gestures. Put up the poster and word cards.	Pages 3, 4, 5
Day 2 Feelings	Feelings check-in. Re-read the book and talk about how the characters felt, using the talk questions.	Pages 6, 9
Day 3 Retell	Mix up the sequencing cards and put the story back in order as a class. Retell with “First… Then… At the end…”.	Page 7
Day 4 Body check-in	Sit in a circle, eyes closed. Ask together: 'What does my body need right now?' Each child answers with one word or a gesture (water, move, rest, hug, snack). U…	Page 8
Day 5 Warm, slow, honey-glow	Warm, slow, honey-glow, then promise cards and exit tickets. Send the family letter home.	Pages 8, 10, 14 to 16

Ontario Kindergarten frames

Self-Regulation and Well-Being, Belonging and Contributing, Demonstrating Literacy and Mathematics Behaviours, Problem Solving and Innovating

Materials

The book (or the class screen), chart paper, a soft blanket or scarf, crayons

Also in this pack

All 12 pages of the Home Activity Pack (from page 17), which you may copy for your class. Book languages: English, French, Spanish, German, Italian.

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Day 1: the read-aloud

Before (3 minutes)

Show the cover. Ask: What is the bear doing? How do you think he feels? What do you notice about the bee? Say: This story is about listening to your body. Can your body tell you things? (When you're hungry, sleepy, cold, sore.) Take three or four answers. Teach the refrain with a slow, sleepy voice and hands that rock like a cradle: 'Warm, slow, honey-glow.' Ask the children to join in every time they hear it.

During: stop, ask, listen (10 minutes)

Spread	What happens	Ask	Listen for
2	Tumble tumbles through the golden autumn forest.	What do you like to do when you have lots of energy?	running, jumping, rolling, playing with friends
3	The tickly cough starts and Tumble decides a Tickle Monster is inside him.	Is there really a monster? What do you think the tickle is?	it's a cough, he's getting sick, it's pretend Go further: Why might Tumble want to fight it?
4	He roars, races and climbs to fight it.	Does fighting look like it's working? How can you tell?	no, he's still coughing, he looks tired
5	Zuzu wonders if racing is helping.	What would you say to Tumble right now?	stop, have a rest, tell your mom
6	Mama Bear asks what his body needs.	Close your eyes and ask your body: what do you need right now? What did it say?	water, a snack, a hug, to move, to sit Go further: Mama didn't tell him what to do. Why do you think she asked instead?
7	In the den Tumble chooses soup, berries and a blanket.	What helps you feel better when you're sick?	sleeping, soup, a cuddle, a favourite toy
9	The games start; Tumble stays in and coughs into his elbow. Why does he cough into his elbow? Let's all try it.		so friends don't get sick, to keep germs in
10	Mama says his body is the brave one.	How can sleeping be brave?	your body is working, it's fixing you while you sleep
12	Tumble joins the last game and shares his honey cup.	How did resting help Tumble in the end?	he got better, he could play, he wasn't too tired

Spread numbers match the reader on the class screen. You don’t need every stop.

Handle with care: Some children are often unwell or have a sick family member. Keep it light: the story is about noticing and resting, not about illness. More notes on the “For every child” page.

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Word wall cards

Cut out and add to your word wall. Teach each word with its gesture.

tumble

to roll and fall over and over, like Tumble down a hill

Do it: roll your hands over each other tickle

a little scratchy, itchy feeling

Do it: touch your throat gently

sniffly

when your nose is runny and you keep sniffing

Do it: a pretend sniff

den

a bear's cozy, safe home

Do it: make a roof with your arms rest

to be still and quiet so your body can feel better

Do it: hands together under your cheek

Warm, slow, honey-glow.

Say it together whenever it comes up in the story.

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

The strongest bears are gentle with themselves.

Warm, slow, honey-glow.

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

How do you feel today?

Post at circle time. Children clip a peg with their name on a face.
Characters' feelings change during a story, and ours can too.

happy

clip your name here

sad

clip your name here

worried

clip your name here

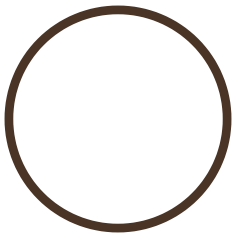

angry

clip your name here

proud

clip your name here

something else

clip your name here

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Sequencing cards

Cut apart for the pocket chart. The four scenes come from the start, two middles and the end of the book, mixed up. Put them in order and retell. Children can color them too.

Answer key, top left to bottom right: 3, 1, 4, 2.

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Activity cards

Cut out and keep with the book. Use one on Day 4 and one on Day 5, or any time.

Body check-in

5 minutes, Whole class, then daily, Materials: None

Sit in a circle, eyes closed. Ask together: 'What does my body need right now?' Each child answers with one word or a gesture (water, move, rest, hug, snack). Use it after recess as a daily calm-down routine.

Warm, slow, honey-glow

5 minutes, Whole class, Materials: A soft scarf or blanket

Play bouncy Tumble music or clap fast: children tumble and jump. When you say the refrain, everyone slows down, wraps up in a pretend blanket and breathes slowly three times. Repeat, getting a little slower each time.

My cozy den

20 minutes, Small groups, Materials: Paper, crayons

Each child draws the cozy den they would rest in when they feel unwell, and the three things inside it that help them (soup, a toy, a person). Write their words under the picture.

Elbow power

5 minutes, Whole class, Materials: None

Practise coughing and sneezing into the elbow like Tumble. Make it a game: when you call 'Tickle!', everyone does an elbow cough. Hang a picture of Tumble by the sink as a reminder.

Science and nature corner

Real bears eat a lot in autumn and then rest for much of the winter in a den, sometimes inside a hollow tree like Tumble's. Honeybees make honey from flower nectar and store it to feed the hive through winter.

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Talk together

Use after reading, at circle time or with a small group. Accept every honest answer.

1. Why did Tumble think he had to fight the Tickle Monster?

Look for: He thought stopping meant being weak, or missing the games.

2. What happened when he raced and climbed?

Look for: He got more tired and sniffly. His body needed rest, not more running.

3. What question did Mama Bear ask? What would your body say right now?

Look for: Any answer is right. Accept 'I'm fine' too.

4. Why did Tumble cough into his elbow?

Look for: To keep his friends well. Caring for yourself can be caring for others.

5. Was resting brave? Why?

Look for: it was hard to stay in; his body did the healing; he still got to play.

Say it together

Warm, slow, honey-glow.

The big idea: Listening to your body means stopping to ask what it needs. Resting when you're unwell is a strong thing to do, not a weak one.

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Promise cards

Each child writes or draws one way they can show listening to your body this week. Hang them up, then check back on Friday.

I can show listening to your body by

Name _____

I can show listening to your body by

Name _____

I can show listening to your body by

Name _____

I can show listening to your body by

Name _____

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

What to look for

Tick what you notice during the week. Each column names the Ontario frame it shows.

Child	Self-Regulation and Well-Being	Self-Regulation and Well-Being	Belonging and Contributing	Demonstrating Literacy and Mathematics Behaviours	Problem Solving and Innovating	Notes

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Science and place corner

The book never names its forest, so we picked a real one where every animal in it lives together: the Carpathian Mountains of Romania, home to the biggest brown bear population in Europe outside Russia.

Brown bear cub

A mother bear gives birth during her winter sleep and nurses her cubs without leaving the den, eating or drinking.

Honeybee

To make one pound of honey, bees visit about 2 million flowers. One bee makes only about 1/12 of a teaspoon in her whole life.

Brown bear

Hibernating bears recycle the waste from their bodies back into protein, so they can even gain muscle over the winter.

European hedgehog

When scared, a hedgehog rolls into a ball and a special muscle makes all of its spines stand up at once.

European brown hare

Brown hares have been clocked at up to 60 km/h in a straight line, as fast as a car in town.

Red squirrel

Red squirrels can sniff out buried food under a foot of snow, and can tell a rotten nut without opening it.

An old oak forest in the mountains of Europe

Tumble: In autumn a real cub Tumble's age would be eating everything in sight to get ready for his winter sleep, and by first snow he'd be heading into the den with Mom, not off to the games.

Zuzu: Real honeybees stay home when it's cold or raining: they fly out to forage when it's warmer than about 16 °C and dry. So Zuzu flying through cold rain is her being an extra-brave friend.

Mama Bear: Real mother bears don't stir honey into warm milk, but they really do raise their cubs alone and care for them for years.

Facts and sources: doubleadventure.ca/heroes/tumble-and-the-honey-glow

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

For every child

English and French learners

Show the read-aloud video first, or read the book in the child's home language if we publish it. Teach the five words with their gestures before reading. Accept answers in any language or with gestures.

Children who need more support

Use fewer pause points (spreads 3, 6 and 9). Offer choices: 'Does your body need water or a rest?' Let children point to pictures instead of answering out loud.

Mixed ages and older children

Ask older children to retell the story in three parts (fighting, listening, getting better), or to make a 'What my body needs' chart for the class.

Handle with care

Some children are often unwell or have a sick family member. Keep it light: the story is about noticing and resting, not about illness.

Never give honey to babies under one year old. If you share a warm drink in class, use separate cups, check for allergies, and keep it warm, not hot.

The Tickle Monster is only Tumble's idea, never a real creature. If a child is scared, say so.

In the book Tumble shares his honey cup. In class, talk about it: we can share kindness, but we each use our own cup.

Where this value comes from

Many families, in many places, care for a cough the same old way: warmth, rest, soup and a spoon of honey in something warm. The book takes that shared home wisdom and adds one idea children can use anywhere: strength is not pushing through, it is noticing what your body needs and asking for care.

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Family letters

Cut apart and send home in the family's language, or copy the text into your newsletter.

English

Today we read Tumble and the Honey Glow, a story about listening to your body. Tumble the bear cub learns that resting when he's unwell is brave, not weak. At home, try asking your child: "What does your body need right now?" You can watch or read the story together for free at doubleadventure.ca.

Français

Aujourd'hui, nous avons lu une histoire sur l'écoute de son corps : l'ourson apprend que se reposer quand on est malade, c'est courageux, pas faible. À la maison, demandez à votre enfant : « De quoi ton corps a-t-il besoin maintenant ? » Vous pouvez lire ou regarder l'histoire gratuitement sur doubleadventure.ca.

Español

Hoy leímos un cuento sobre escuchar a nuestro cuerpo: el osito aprende que descansar cuando está enfermo es valiente, no débil. En casa, pregúntele a su hijo o hija: «¿Qué necesita tu cuerpo ahora mismo?». Pueden leer o ver el cuento gratis en doubleadventure.ca.

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Family letters

Continued.

Deutsch

Heute haben wir eine Geschichte über das Hören auf den eigenen Körper gelesen: Der kleine Bär lernt, dass Ausruhen, wenn man krank ist, mutig ist und nicht schwach. Fragen Sie Ihr Kind zu Hause: „Was braucht dein Körper gerade?“ Die Geschichte gibt es kostenlos zum Lesen und Anschauen auf doubleadventure.ca.

Italiano

Oggi abbiamo letto una storia sull'ascoltare il proprio corpo: l'orsetto impara che riposare quando si sta male è coraggioso, non debole. A casa, chiedete a vostro figlio o vostra figlia: «Di che cosa ha bisogno il tuo corpo adesso?». Potete leggere o guardare la storia gratis su doubleadventure.ca.

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Exit tickets

Read each line aloud. Children tick what they can do and circle a face.
Four tickets per page.

Name _____

Listening to your body: I can

- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .

How do I feel about it?

Name _____

Listening to your body: I can

- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .

How do I feel about it?

Name _____

Listening to your body: I can

- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .

How do I feel about it?

Name _____

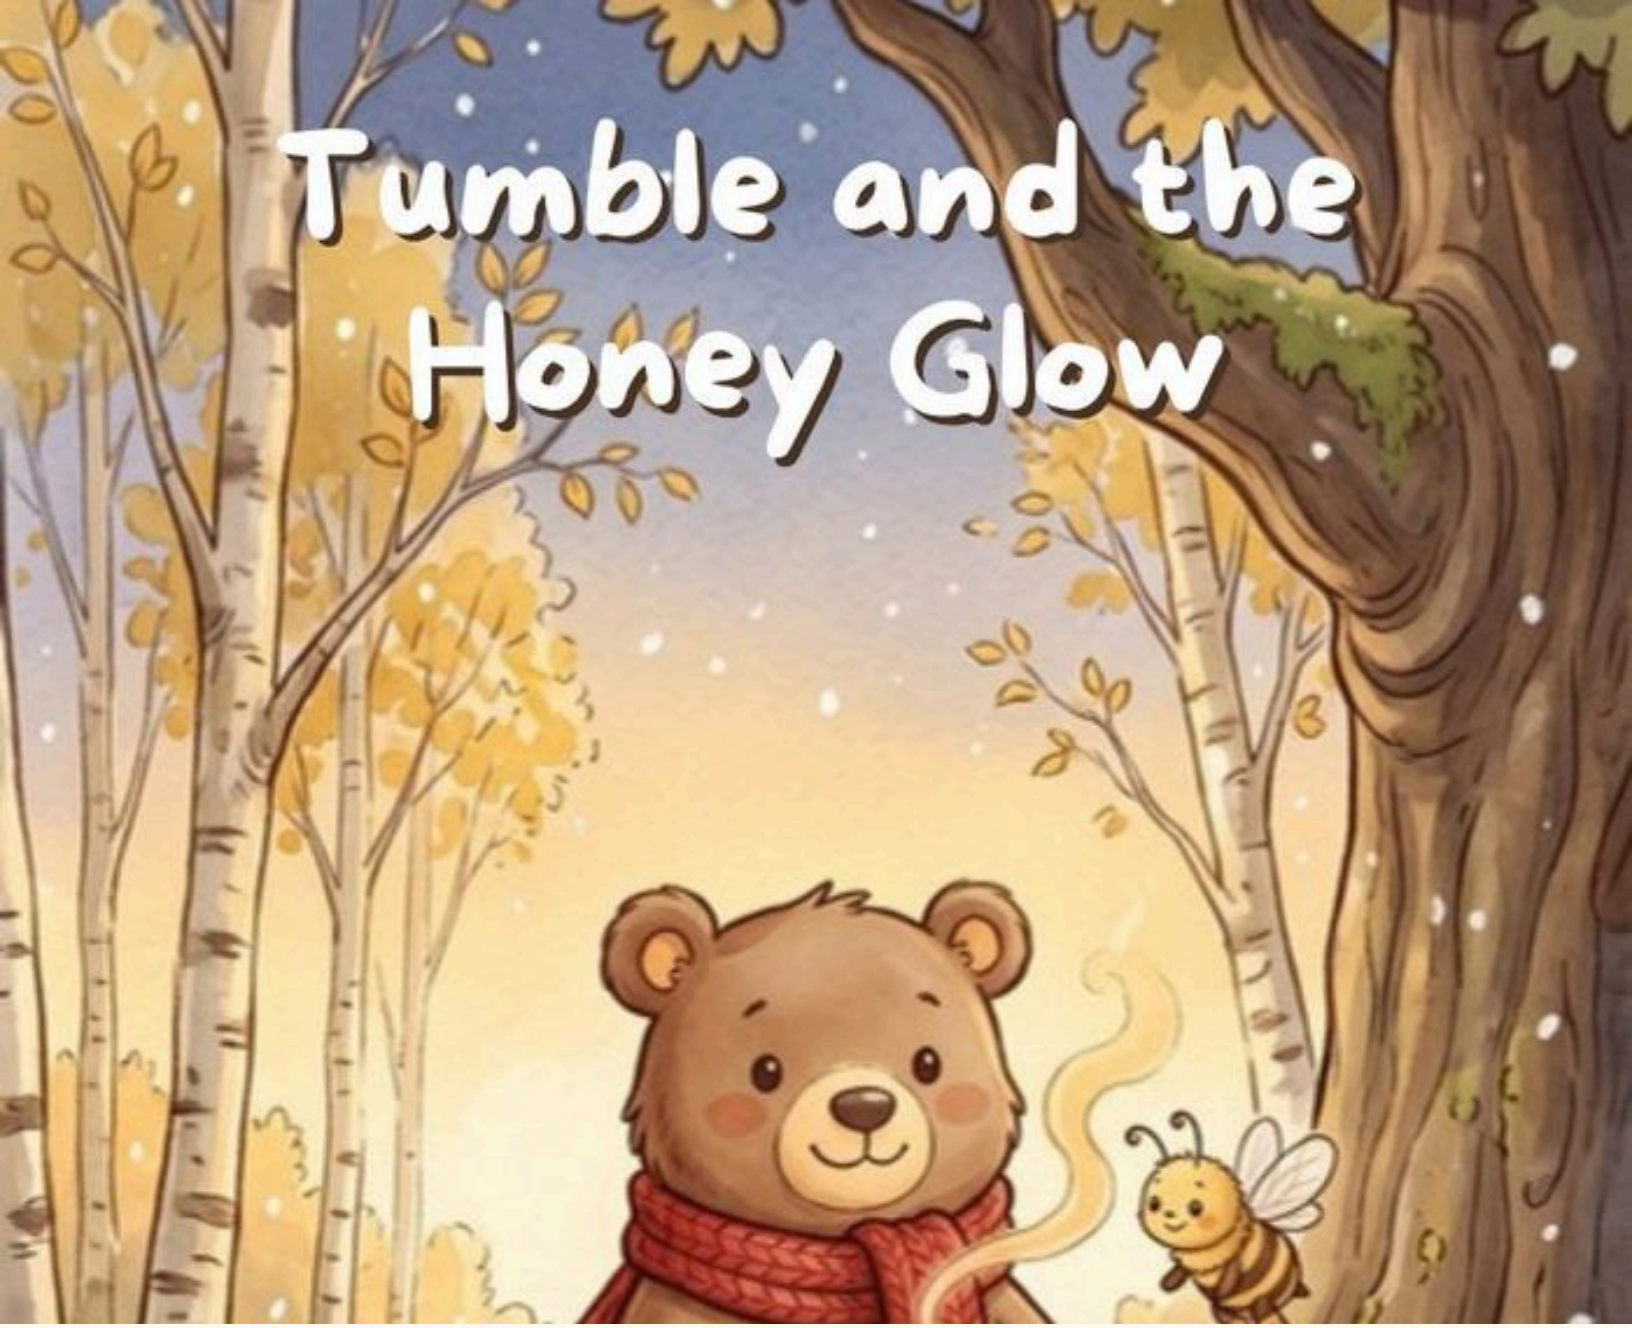

Listening to your body: I can

- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .
- ☐ I can .

How do I feel about it?

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Home activity pack, ages 3 to 7

Tumble and the Honey Glow

Twelve pages to color, cut, trace, make and talk about, all from the story.
The value in this book: listening to your body.

For use in your own home. Please don't share the file or post it online.

For grown-ups

Read the story first, then pick one page a day. Each page takes 10 to 20 minutes. There are no wrong answers.

The big idea

Listening to your body means stopping to ask what it needs. Resting when you're unwell is a strong thing to do, not a weak one.

Say it together

Warm, slow, honey-glow.

Five words from the story

Word	What it means	Do it
tumble	to roll and fall over and over, like Tumble down a hill	roll your hands over each other
tickle	a little scratchy, itchy feeling	touch your throat gently
sniffly	when your nose is runny and you keep sniffing	a pretend sniff
den	a bear's cozy, safe home	make a roof with your arms
rest	to be still and quiet so your body can feel better	hands together under your cheek

A gentle note

Some children are often unwell or have a sick family member. Keep it light: the story is about noticing and resting, not about illness.

The Tickle Monster is only Tumble's idea, never a real creature. If a child is scared, say so.

What you need

Crayons, a pencil, scissors, glue or tape, a few craft sticks or straws, and the book (or read it free on screen at doubleadventure.ca).

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Meet the friends

Cut out each card along the dashed line. Tape a craft stick on the back and you have a puppet. Act out the story!

Tumble

Brown bear cub

The bouncy cub who thinks resting is losing

Zuzu

Honeybee

The tiny friend who notices first when Tumble isn't well

Mama Bear

Brown bear

Asks one question instead of giving orders

The hedgehog cub

European hedgehog

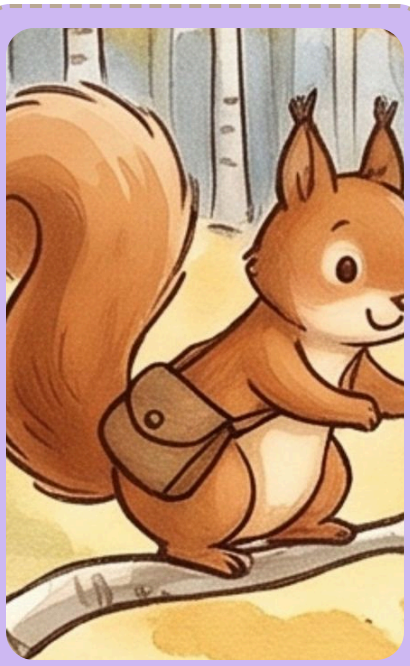

The little friend in the acorn hat

The hare

European brown hare

The speedy friend with the blue ribbon

The squirrel

Red squirrel

The busy friend with the satchel

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

How did they feel?

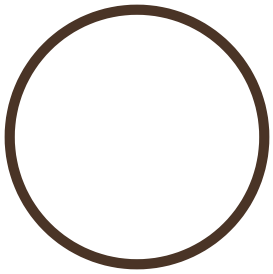

Feelings change during a story. Talk about each moment, then draw how the character felt.

Moment 1

Tumble tumbles through the golden autumn forest.

Draw the face. Then circle a word.

sad scared worried happy brave proud calm

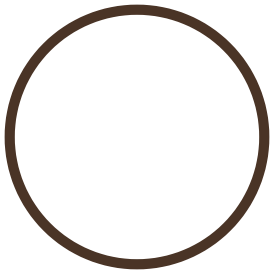

Moment 2

Mama Bear asks what his body needs.

Draw the face. Then circle a word.

sad scared worried happy brave proud calm

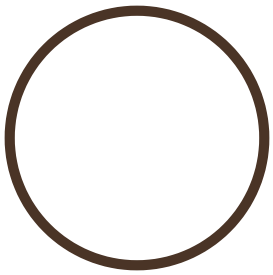

Moment 3

Tumble joins the last game and shares his honey cup.

Draw the face. Then circle a word.

sad scared worried happy brave proud calm

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Story in order

Color the pictures. Write 1, 2 and 3 in the boxes to show what happened first, next and last. Then cut them out and tell the story.

Color me ☐

Color me ☐

Color me ☐

Tell it in your own words

First, _____

Then, _____

At the end, _____

For grown-ups: the pictures come from the start, the middle and the end of the book. Younger children can just point and tell.

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Trace the words

Trace each word with a pencil. Then try writing it on your own in the empty space.

tumble to roll and fall over and over, like Tumble down a hill

tumble tumble

tickle a little scratchy, itchy feeling

tickle tickle

sniffly when your nose is runny and you keep sniffing

sniffly sniffly

Tumble the hero of the story

Tumble Tumble

Write your name

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Draw your own story

Tumble showed listening to your body. Draw a time when you showed listening to your body too, or a time you could.

Tell a grown-up: What happened? How did you feel? How did the other person feel?

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Make and do

Pick one to try today. Each one comes straight from the story.

My cozy den

You need: Paper, crayons

Each child draws the cozy den they would rest in when they feel unwell, and the three things inside it that help them (soup, a toy, a person). Write their words under the picture.

Listen to your body

Ask Mama Bear's question at home: what does your body need right now? Warm, rest, a snack, a hug?

The bee dance

Hide a toy, then waggle-dance in its direction. Can your family follow your directions?

Winter pantry

Hide ten nuts or blocks around the room. Tomorrow, how many can you find? The rest become 'trees'!

Draw what you made

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

The real animals

The animals in Tumble and the Honey Glow are based on real ones. Here is something true about each of them.

Tumble

Brown bear cub

A mother bear gives birth during her winter sleep and nurses her cubs without leaving the den, eating or drinking.

Zuzu

Honeybee

To make one pound of honey, bees visit about 2 million flowers. One bee makes only about 1/12 of a teaspoon in her whole life.

Mama Bear

Brown bear

Hibernating bears recycle the waste from their bodies back into protein, so they can even gain muscle over the winter.

The hedgehog cub

European hedgehog

When scared, a hedgehog rolls into a ball and a special muscle makes all of its spines stand up at once.

Story or real?

In autumn a real cub Tumble's age would be eating everything in sight to get ready for his winter sleep, and by first snow he'd be heading into the den with Mom, not off to the games.

Where they really live

The book never names its forest, so we picked a real one where every animal in it lives together: the Carpathian Mountains of Romania, home to the biggest brown bear population in Europe outside Russia.

Facts and sources: doubleadventure.ca/heroes/tumble-and-the-honey-glow

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Color the story

Color this page from the book. What is happening here?

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Talk together cards

Cut out the cards and keep them in a jar. Pull one out at dinner, in the car or at bedtime.

What is the bear doing? How do you think he feels? What do you notice about the bee?

Tumble and the Honey Glow, talk card 1

Why did Tumble think he had to fight the Tickle Monster?

Tumble and the Honey Glow, talk card 2

What happened when he raced and climbed?

Tumble and the Honey Glow, talk card 3

What question did Mama Bear ask? What would your body say right now?

Tumble and the Honey Glow, talk card 4

Why did Tumble cough into his elbow?

Tumble and the Honey Glow, talk card 5

Was resting brave? Why?

Tumble and the Honey Glow, talk card 6

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca

Listening to your body hero

This is to say that

_____

showed listening to your body, just like Tumble.

Warm, slow, honey-glow.

_____ _____

Signed Date

© A² Publishing, doubleadventure.ca